

Mollie MacGowan Scholarship

Mollie MacGowan was a math teacher at the Mason City High School from 1918-1941. MacGowan dedicated her life to teaching and assisting a number of young people in financing their educations, a service which she did not advertise but the value of which could not be estimated. Upon her sudden death at the age of 60, MacGowan's scholarship trust was established.

The scholarship has been awarded through the Education Foundation of Mason City Public schools since 2000. Students receiving this scholarship must apply through the high school counseling office and meet the parameter of the scholarship criteria: strength of character, scholastic merit, and financial need.

If you would like to make a tax-deductible donation to this fund, please send donation to Education Foundation of Mason City Public Schools, 1515 S. Pennsylvania Ave, Mason City, IA 50401.
