

Class of 1957 Scholarship

In 2010, the Class of 1957 awarded the first scholarship to a deserving Mason City High School senior. Classmates of 1957 were able to bond together and build a perpetual scholarship. Their goal is to give back to Mason City's youth for the excellent education they were privileged to receive.

John Barron, 1957 graduate, said the consensus of the class was to offer an annual scholarship to a graduating senior based on scholastic merit, strength of character, and financial need. Along with the collective efforts of this class, the following people made personal donations to support this fund from the "Class of 57": Zoe (Sherman) Hugo, Patrick Lennan, Glenn and Susan Borcharding, Arlen and Gayle Nissen, Kaye McDonald, Norman and Nancy Klath, Drs. Jeffry and Amanda Andresen, James and Martha (Songer) McDermott, Dorothy (McEnaney) Laubenthal, Larry and Donna Gray, Lee Phearman, Anton Honczarenko, John Barron, Mike and Ann Brunsvold, Dr. Murray and Patricia Finley, Bob Evans, William and Sally Patton, Donald Senneff, John and Sheila Sondergaard, Colleen (Wynn) Bower, Richard Schinnow, J.
